Day 2 | Troyes

What better way to kick off our French adventure than with a few glasses of bubbles at an authentic Champagne winery? But first: say au revoir! to Paris and settle in for a comfortable ride to Reims. We'll walk in the regal footsteps of France's most famous kings as we pass beneath the splendid Gothic façade of Reims Cathedral – the historic location of royal coronations. The monument also has links to Joan of Arc, so don't forget to keep your eyes peeled for the statues dedicated to the famous female warrior.

Then, today's pièce de résistance awaits: a family-owned winery. We'll enjoy a masterclass in grape cultivation before sipping a trio of delicious champagnes. Salut! Feeling merry, we'll move onto our final stop of the day: the romantic town of Troyes. The unofficial capital of Champagne, it's awash with medieval timber-framed buildings and narrow lantern-lit lanes that will make you feel like you've stepped into a traditional Charles Perrault fairytale.

Tonight, seek out a local restaurant to sample some tasty traditional fare – accompanied by another glass of bubbling champagne, of course!

Day 3

There's nothing better than beginning the day with a fresh, buttery croissant smothered in jam. Once you've licked the last flakes off your fingers, we'll hit the cobblestones for a walking tour of Troyes with our knowledgeable Tour Leader – soaking up key sights like the incredibly narrow Cats Alley.

Then, you'll be dreaming in technicolour tonight after a visit to Cite Du Vitrail. Nestled in the heart of the city, this museum is a tribute to Troyes' mesmerising heritage of producing intricate stained-glass windows. There'll be time to wander the town at leisure afterwards and grab yourself some lunch. Don't miss browsing the many local boulangeries for tempting treats like brioche au Chaource that's stuffed with soft and oh-so-creamy Chaource cheese.

And on the menu this evening? Whatever takes your fancy! There's a plenitude of cosy cafes and intimate bistros to settle into for the night – and lots more regional dishes to devour.

Ready for another tantalising wine tasting? Today, our path leads us out of the city and towards the vineyards of Chablis: the northernmost corner of the Burgundy region. Soak up vistas of sun-dappled vines as we glide slowly up the driveway to our next heavenly winery. The family-run estate produces several sumptuous organic wines, and we'll savour six during a guided tasting.

With the flavour of crisp Chablis still on our tongues, we'll move onto nearby Beaune – our très belle base for the next few days. You'll stumble across Gothic masterpieces at every turn in this medieval town. Spend the rest of the afternoon leisurely roaming its picture-perfect streets before we meet for another memorable group dinner. Day 5

Did you know that Beaune is the wine capital of Burgundy? Or that it hosts an art museum entirely dedicated to the works of Salvador Dali? We'll connect with Beaune on a deeper level today, including visiting the city's crowning glory: the Hospices de Beaune. Originally founded as a hospital for the poor by the Chancellor of Burgundy back in 1443, this unique building is now a museum – and an exceptional example of 15th-century French architecture.

Once we've sauntered beneath the hospice's timbered galleries and examined the exquisite detailing of the majestic nine-panelled Beaune Altarpiece, you'll have some free time to dive further into the city's secrets. Peer across intricately tiled rooftops into flower-filled gardens and across serene moats while wandering around the 900-year-old ramparts. Or discover firsthand how wine was pressed in medieval times at the local Burgundy wine museum. Feeling thirsty? There's plenty of charming little wine bars where you can pull up a stool and sample a glass or two of smooth Hautes-Côtes de Beaune.

Day 6 | Annecy

We might be saying à bientôt to Beaune today – but there’s a tempting treat in store for us before we venture into the French Alps. If there’s time, we’ll break up the journey with a pitstop in captivating Cluny to soak up the intricate stonework and panoramic countryside views from its former Benedictine monastery.

Then, prepare your tastebuds for utter indulgence at a vineyard that’s been owned by the same family for four generations! Gliding up the driveway of this historic winery is a moment you’ll always remember. We’ll embrace the magic further by gazing out across acres of verdant vines and up at the chateau’s enchanting turrets during a guided tour followed by an essential tasting of four sumptuous wines.

Afterwards, we’ll settle down in the soft shade of the plane trees in the chateau’s manicured grounds for a sumptuous picnic – washed down with another glass of local wine, of course! Take another moment to soak up the peaceful surroundings before we swap southern Burgundy’s rolling hills for the jagged alpine peaks of the Haute-Savoie region.

Annecy – the so-called ‘Pearl of the French Alps’ – is our final destination. We’ll see how it lives up to its nickname on an orientation walk around its cobbled streets which are a riot of colour thanks to sunset-hued townhouses and canal side bistros embellished with seasonal blooms. Why not find a table at one of the latter for dinner? We hear tartiflette (a delectable concoction of lardons, potatoes and melted cheese) is the local delicacy...

Day 7 | Annecy

We'll be taking to the skies (well, almost) today as we ascend further into the magical French Alps to Chamonix. Bask in the crisp mountain air as you wander around the market town's quaint streets – and don't forget to look up at the majestic Mont Blanc that looms large over the entire region like a monarch surveying its kingdom.

Depending on the weather conditions and the time of year, we might venture even higher than Chamonix via the Brévent cable car or on the charming cogwheel Montenvers railway. Breathe in the scent of fresh pine needles and gaze out across verdant foothills that are blanketed in kaleidoscopic wildflowers throughout the summer.

Back in Annecy this evening, we'll clink glasses and swap stories of the day over an included group dinner. Expect to encounter more classic and utterly mouthwatering Haute-Savoie dishes on the menu such as raclette. Because who doesn't love gooey, melted cheese?

Then, the day's path is yours to choose. You could easily spend a morning getting lost in the warren of lanes that make up the pedestrianised Old Town – passing pink, peach and yellow houses hosting all manner of local delights. Inhale the sweet scent of fresh brioche aux pralines and sugar-dusted beignets wafting out of the doors of the town's boulangeries. Or soak up soul-stirring vistas of the tiny Le Palais de l'Île from the flower-dotted Pont Perrière. Magnifique!

Day 9 | Drôme Region

If you spent the night dreaming of cheese (melted or otherwise), today's your lucky day! While we will be making our retreat from idyllic Annecy, our next stop in the heart of the breathtaking Geopark du Massif des Bauges more than makes up for it.

Fromagerie Les Aillons has been producing traditional cheeses for decades – and we'll learn all its secrets on a tour. Make sure you bring your appetite as we'll also indulge in a tasting of several regional varieties, including rustic tomes de Bauges and melt-in-your-mouth val bleu. Washed down with a glass of French cider, what could be more divine?

Then, we'll swap the cragged French Alps for the undulating hills and aromatic meadows of the Drôme region. After settling into our hand-picked hotel, we'll reconvene for another memorable meal in excellent company.

Day 10 | Gréoux-Les-Bains

Oceans of fragrant lavender. Sleepy, sun-dappled stone villages. Cypress trees swaying lazily in the warm breeze. This morning, we're stepping into a real-life Van Gogh painting in picture-perfect Provence.

Sisteron will be our first port of call – specifically its enchanting 12th-century Citadel. Perched on a rugged spur, this historic monument offers stunning panoramic views which stretch out over 150 kilometres towards the snow-capped Alps. Spend an hour or so exploring Sisteron's bastions and crumbling medieval keep before seeking out some lunch. Lamb is the local meat of choice, so why not tuck into a succulent grilled chop dusted in aromatic herbes de Provence?

Then, it's onwards to Gréoux-Les-Bains: a tranquil spa town that's attracted visitors to its soothing thermal waters for over 2000 years. Villa Borghese will be our home for the next two nights and it's a true oasis of calm – with palatial gardens and an outdoor pool that's drenched in Provençal sunshine throughout the spring and summer.

Stomachs sated with breakfast, we'll hop back in our luxury minicoach and prepare to soak up some pinch-me-I-must-be-dreaming vistas at the Gorges du Verdon. This immense canyon is one of the largest in Europe and its scenery is utterly spellbinding – with plunging limestone walls formed by millions of years of erosion from the snaking Verdon River.

And if that wasn't enough, we'll also stop to marvel the topaz-blue waters and pine-dotted shores of Lac de Sainte Croix at the very end of the canyon. You'd never guess it was a man-made reservoir and not a natural phenomenon!

Then, our path takes us back to Gréoux-Les-Bains where one final group dinner in Villa Borghese's restaurant awaits. Savour the fresh flavours of Provence cuisine and clink glasses as you fondly round off a wonderful journey together. Santé!

It is your responsibility to obtain visas prior to your tour's departure. To determine which visas you'll need, you can consult either your own government's website or the government websites of the countries in which you will be travelling.

Measures you can take to look after your mental health and wellbeing while on the road with us are:

- Call loved ones. Hearing a familiar voice whilst in an unfamiliar destination can help ground you and remind you you're not alone.
- Eat well. Nobody feels their best when they're hungry. There are plenty of nutritious culinary delights to be savoured along the road!
- Integrate with your fellow guests. The more you socialise with the group, the less likely you'll feel homesick.

FAQs

Which type of hotels will we stay in?

Our thoughtfully selected accommodation is full of charm and historic details – expect elegant country inns, grand town centre hotels and even the odd castle! For this reason, rooms vary in size, and most hotels don't have lifts – meaning you'll likely need to access your room via stairs. Porterage will be included wherever possible.

Although air conditioning is mostly unavailable in historic buildings, fans will be provided during hot spells. Most hotels have bathtubs with overhead showers (rather than walk-in showers), so you'll be able to enjoy a soak at the end of the day.

What activities will we do in Chamonix?

On day 7 during your explorations of Chamonix, your included activity will differ depending on your departure date and the season. Most departures include either a ride on the Brévent cable car or the charming cogwheel Montenvers railway. A select few feature a visit to the Vallorcine Farm instead – a local alpine fromagerie close to the stunning Swiss border.

How long are the driving days on this tour?

Typically, we'll be navigating France's scenic backroads (and the odd unavoidable motorway) for three to four hours per day. You'll be comfy in our spacious minicoach though, plus there will be plenty of stops along the way where you can stretch your legs. This tour additionally features a couple of non-driving days where you'll be exploring entirely on foot.

What pace is this tour?

As with all Back-Roads tours, the pace is slow enough for you to fully immerse yourself in every destination you visit. We'll snooze in most locations for two nights and you'll enjoy plenty of free time to delve into France's hidden gems.

Expertly crafted small-group tours

How much walking can I expect to do?

This tour features several fascinating walking tours which take you down cobblestone streets, around ancient citadels and through lush vineyards. We'd recommend packing your comfiest pair of walking shoes and a sun hat to keep you protected on warmer days.

What's breakfast like in France?

A typical French breakfast spread is simple but wholesome. It usually includes a range of cold meats, cheeses and bread, buttery homemade pastries, freshly squeezed juices and a hot drink of your choice. If you have any dietary requirements, we'll ask about these before you begin your tour and accommodate them whenever we can.

That's everything!

We can't wait to welcome you on tour.
